

Spring Conference

Nebraska Press Women

April 11 and 12, 2025
Omaha, Nebraska

Friday, April 11 Bonus Activities

12:00 No-host lunch at Joslyn Art Museum Café. JAM is at 2200 Dodge Street. It is newly renovated and features free parking & free museum admission.

1:00- 2:30 Tour of Joslyn with a special guide and extra time to explore

2:30-3:00 Visit Flatwater Free Press, 2027 Dodge Street, and talk with staffers. FFP is across the street from JAM and is holding an open house for donors at 4:00. NPW members are invited.

4:00 check-in, Comfort Suites/West, 192nd and Center Streets, special NPW rate is available till March 11. Call 402-991-2652.

6:00 NPW board meeting and no-host dinner, Vincenzo's, 15701 Pacific Street.

Saturday, April 12 Conference

Water's Edge Church Community Room, 19600 Harrison Street

9:00-4:00

Registration and Networking

Welcome and short member meeting

Erin Grace will speak about her transition from news reporting to public relations.

Carol Zuegner, a former Associated Press editor and Creighton University journalism professor, will address "What Lies Ahead".

Casual catered lunch

High School Journalism contest winners will be recognized.

Natalia Alamdari, a reporter for Flatwater Free Press, will drill down on the research for her innovative immigration series.

Andee Hoig, publisher of the Midlands Business Journal, will trace the evolution of journalism and today's digital-first environment.

Marilyn Hoegemeyer, retired editor of the Minneapolis Star Tribune, will review how she self-published and promoted her Nebraska memoir.

Timber Creek Pizza and Pub, 180th and Harrison Street

5:30 fun buffet dinner

Award presentation for professional contest and NPW Hall of Fame

For more information and registration go to www.nebraskapresswomen.org.

April 3 is the registration deadline.